Credit Points 10

Coordinator John Juriansz (https://directory.westernsydney.edu.au/search/name/John Juriansz/)

Description The subject aims to deepen student understanding of the nature, role, and function of remedies to construction projects. The content of this subject elucidates the principles and the interaction between the technical, commercial and legal aspects of remedies in construction procurement and disputes. Students will investigate existing and emerging legal issues relating to remedies in the construction contexts. Legal and non-legal practitioners need to be confident in their understanding of the remedies available under various causes of action. Construction law requires a sound knowledge of relevant case law and legislation concerning diverse matters, such as damages in contract, recovery in tort for pure economic loss, penalties (including liquidated damages), quantum meruit, remedies under the Australian Consumer Law and the grant of interlocutory injunctions.
