INDONESIAN, MAJOR (0309)

Western Sydney University Major Code: 0309

Indonesian, Major

Availability

Available to students in other Western Sydney University Programs: Yes. Check that your program has the available credit points required to complete the subjects in this field of study. Any requisite requirements must also be met. Consult your Program Advisor for further advice.

Language specialisations aim to enable students to develop an appropriate level of proficiency in a second language, which may be used for professional purposes such as teaching, interpreting and translation, business or international relations. Students undertaking a language specialisation will be able to use the language in question according to its grammatical and pragmatic principles, communicate with native speakers appropriately in the spoken as well as the written mode, and demonstrate an understanding of the cultures and societies associated with the language.

Western Sydney University has a Cross Institutional Agreement in place with the University of Sydney for the study of Indonesian. Students will complete units of study at the University of Sydney which will be recorded as transfer credit towards the Western Sydney University major or minor in Indonesian.

Students will be required to enrol with the University of Sydney to undertake their study and will be subject to University of Sydney fees and policies.

Students should note that this arrangement is subject to annual review and may change. Units of study are offered at the discretion of the University of Sydney.

Students must seek advice from the WSU Languages Academic Program Advisor before undertaking this major to ensure that they have accurate information regarding enrolment responsibilities, progression requirements, tuition fees, Student Contribution Amounts and other fees including the Student Services and Amenities Fee.
