Effective from: 2020

Approved Abbreviation: LLM

Western Sydney University Program Code: 2824

CRICOS Code: 0101782

Program Status:

This program applies to students who commenced in 2020 or later.

Handbook Summary 2020 - 2023

The Master of Laws (LLM) provides law and non-law graduates with a flexible postgraduate opportunity to develop advanced, integrated and contemporary knowledge in one or more areas of legal study. The LLM is a sophisticated degree with substantial consideration of relevant international, professional and transdisciplinary aspects of the law which will enhance student career expertise and prospects. The program develops advanced legal research and writing skills and enhances the ability of students to critically evaluate complex legal issues within a global context. All students will have the opportunity to apply their legal knowledge and skills by conducting independent research and by engaging in analytical studies on specialised topics in the student's areas of interest.

The program offers an invaluable opportunity for law graduates without experience in a legal environment to be supervised and mentored by experienced legal practitioners through a legal placement subject. There is no tuition fee associated with this subject and the subject may be undertaken at the same time as the academic subjects.

Students may select a major in International Governance. This major enables students to enhance their knowledge and skills of both private and public law issues related to corporate governance, with a strong theoretical core, and a series of subjects providing specialist information and skills.

Additional Information - School of Law guidelines for pathways to PhD

1. Currently the WSU Doctorate Policy (<https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=17>) eligibility requirement is found under Clause 11:

Applicants for admission to candidature for any doctorate degree covered by this policy with the exception of a Doctor of Medicine (see Part R) shall hold:

- a research masters degree; or
- a bachelor degree with honours class 1 or bachelor degree with honours class 2 division 1; or
- qualifications from a university or other tertiary institution deemed by the Dean or Director, Research Institute to be equivalent to the requirements set out above.

This guideline is to provide clarity over what the school of law determines as a research masters degree or equivalent qualifications from a University.

2. Please note this guideline does not impact Clause 12 which states:

In exceptional circumstances a Dean or Director, Research Institute may approve the admission of an applicant who does not have the qualifications specified in clause 11. In such cases the Dean or Director, Research Institute will consider evidence to be supplied by the candidate and verified by the relevant HDR Director or equivalent, that shows that the applicant has equivalent qualifications based on academic and professional attainment and demonstration in an appropriate discipline of a capacity for the research. Evidence should demonstrate the applicant's understanding of and skill in the use of a suitable research methodology and ability to undertake academic writing. The Dean or Director, Research Institute may approve admission on the basis of equivalent capacity."

That clause allows the Dean or Director discretion where appropriate.

3. For the purposes of the school of law Doctorate program eligibility a 'research masters' or 'equivalent degree' requires the candidate to have their qualifications assessed by the research committee. Considerations relevant to admission will include whether the candidate:

- Has completed a 10,000-word minimum research project
- Has had the research project examined by external markers
- If given a grade be at least a Distinction/High Distinction.
- GPA in undergraduate law of the equivalent of an Honours 2:1 OR other study deemed suitable for equivalence

If these are not met the candidate should enrol in the Research Masters.

4. For JD and LLM students they should be advised to complete the dissertation subjects (LAWS7027 Legal Philosophy and Methodology and LAWS7062 Legal Research Dissertation) and have them externally marked along with meeting the other criteria.
