Coordinator Lisa Cutajar (https://directory.westernsydney.edu.au/search/name/Lisa Cutajar/)

Description In this subject students will learn the necessary midwifery skills for the provision of woman-centred antenatal care. In a simulated practice environment students will gain practical skills to provide midwifery care to the woman and her supportive others during pregnancy. This subject will also focus on preparing students for clinical placement. The importance of work health and safety and effective communication and documentation will be reinforced. This subject will include recruitment of women for the continuity of care experience.
